

The Fiscal Cost of Domestic Violence

The Fiscal Cost of Domestic Violence — Footnotes

- a. More than 50% of all assaults and sexual assaults go unreported. The low rates of report or contradictions of the official report implies that victims usually only report after multiple violent incidents.
- b. The bottom 10% of Alaska attorneys make approximately $75,000 per year.
- c. The green outline on these sections indicates the most cost effective measure. More information about LEAP is available at LEAPfbks.com or at (907)-452-2473.
- d. A Class A misdemeanor may be sentenced to not more than one year of imprisonment. Class B misdemeanor may be sentenced to not more than 90 days of imprisonment unless otherwise specified. A conviction of assault IV that was committed in violation of a protective order carries a minimum sentence of 20 days imprisonment that cannot be suspended. If convicted of assault IV after previous conviction of a crime against a person or a crime involving domestic violence, the minimum sentence is 30 days imprisonment. If the defendant has been previously convicted two or more times of a crime against a person, a crime involving domestic violence, or a combination of the two, the minimum sentence is 60 days imprisonment.
- e. The state allocated $15.5 million to the Council of Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault (CDVSA) in FY17 to provide services to victims of domestic violence. Despite this, nearly 30% of victims are unable to access services because of geographic barriers.
- f. Domestic violence and sexual assault claims make up 34% the total volume of claims submitted to the Violent Crimes Compensation Board (VCCB). This same category accounts for 22% of pay outs by the VCCB. From 2004 to 2014, domestic violence related claims have increased 57.7% and monies paid out increased 610.8%. Even so, strict guidelines create a stumbling block to receiving a payout by the VCCB. Crimes must be reported to the police within five days, the victim must cooperate with the police, and VCCB claims must be made within two years of the crime. Additionally, compensable therapy rates are limited to $150 per hour.
- g. On the child's behalf, OCS becomes involved, justice system costs accrue, medical and mental health issues arise, special education classes or teacher's aides may be needed, and there is lost productivity over a lifetime.

Sources:

- Alaska Judicial Council. (2008). Electronic exchange of criminal case discover materials. Retrieved from http://www.ajc.state.ak.us/sites/default/files/ajc_e-discovery_needs_assessment_11-08_5.pdf
- Arias, I., & Corso, P. (2005). Average cost per person victimized by an intimate partner of the opposite gender: A comparison of men and women. Violence and Victims, 20(4), 379-91. Retrieved from http://search.proquest.com.proxy.consortiumlibrary.org/docview/208526540?accountid=14473
- Carns, T. W., Cohn, L., & Martin, S. (2011). Criminal recidivism in Alaska, 2008 and 2009. Alaska Judicial Council. Retrieved from <http://www.ajc.state.ak.us/reports/recid2011.pdf>
- Department of Labor and Workforce Development. (2017). Alaska housing market indicators, 2016 residential rental market survey. Retrieved from <http://live.laborstats.alaska.gov/housing/rental.pdf>
- Department of Labor and Workforce Development. (2016). May 2016 wages in Alaska Alaska statewide. Retrieved from <http://live.laborstats.alaska.gov/wage/#g23>
- Fang, X., Brown, D. S., Florence, C. S., Mercy, J. A. (2012). The economic burden of child maltreatment in the United States and implications for prevention. Child Abuse & Neglect. DOI: 10.1016/j.chiabu.2011.10.006
- Fried, N. The cost of living. Department of Labor and Workforce Development. Retrieved from <http://live.laborstats.alaska.gov/col/col.pdf>
- Gutierrez, C. (2015). 2015 recidivism reduction plan: Cost-effective solutions to slow prison population growth and reduce recidivism. Legislative Workgroup. Retrieved from <http://www.correct.state.ak.us/commish/docs/hb266.pdf>
- Herrenkohl, T. I., Sousa, C., Tajima, E. A., Herrenkohl, R. C., & Moylan, C. A. (2008). Intersection of child abuse and children's exposure to domestic violence. Trauma, Violence, & Abuse, 9(2), 84-99. DOI: 10.1177/1524838008314797
- Hudson, K. VCCB executive director, personal communication, March 10, 2017.
- Klein, A. R., & Rose, K. (2009). Practical implications of current domestic violence research: For law enforcement, prosecutors and judges. National Institute of Justice. Retrieved from <https://www.ncjrs.gov/pdffiles1/nij/225722.pdf>
- National Housing Law Project. (2013). Housing rights of domestic violence survivors: A state and local law compendium. Retrieved from <http://nhlp.org/files/Domestic%20violence%20housing%20compendium%20FINAL7.pdf>
- Parker, K. (2015). Violent crimes compensation board: Claims, FY 2004-FY2014. Alaska Justice Statistical Analysis Center. Retrieved from https://www.uaa.alaska.edu/academics/college-of-health/departments/justice-center/alaska-justice-statistical-analysis-center/documents/Fact_Sheets/ajsac.15-01_vccb.pdf
- Sentences of Imprisonment For Misdemeanors, Alaska Statute § 55-135
- Truman, J. L., & Morgan, R. E. (2016) Criminal victimization, 2015. Bureau of Justice Statistics. Retrieved from <https://www.bjs.gov/content/pub/pdf/cv15.pdf>
- U.S. Department of Justice. (2009). Criminal victimization in the United States, 2008 statistical tables: National crime victimization survey. Bureau of Justice Statistics. Retrieved from <https://www.bjs.gov/content/pub/pdf/cvus08.pdf>